RAINHILL HOSPITAL

GB1076.RHH Rainhill Hospital

To find out if we hold records for a particular former patient at Rainhill Hospital, we have compiled a searchable name listing in a 'Microsoft Access Database'. This database is not open to the public and can only be searched by Knowsley Archives staff.

Note that confidential patient files are closed for a period of 100 years from the date of the last entry. However, permission to access patient records of an individual 'next-of-kin' can be sought in writing from the owner/depositor of the records as follows:

St. Helens and Knowsley Teaching Hospitals NHS Trust
Carol Freeman
Complaints and Claims Department
Whiston Hospital
Warrington Road
Prescot
Merseyside
L35 5DR

Tel: 0151 430 1434
Above contact details correct as of 8th September 2010

If permission is granted by the NHS Trust (mentioned above), the letter of permission must be produced to Archives Staff before access is allowed to view any 'next-of-kin' records.

Note also:
Knowsley Archives hold only a portion of the total records for former patients at Rainhill Hospital. The bulk of deposited records for Rainhill Hospital are held elsewhere as follows:

Liverpool Record Office, 3rd Floor, Central Library, William Brown Street, Liverpool L3 8EN
Telephone 0151-233-5817 http://liverpool.gov.uk/libraries/archives-family-history/
Their Rainhill Hospital records are held in category: M614 RAI

Note: under Data Protection legislation, the same 100 year closure ruling applies to all hospital patient records, no matter where they are deposited.

ROBERT ATHERTON (ROBIN O' BOBS)
Lancashire poet

Robert Atherton was born in Liverpool in 1861 the son of Robert Atherton and Ellen Hesketh. At the age of 22, he undertook studies in Holy Orders and in 1886 was given a curacy at Great Houghton, near Northampton. Later he was appointed Rector of St Dunstan's Parish Church, Bolnhurst, Bedfordshire, a post he held from 1888-1903. He was deprived of his post in 1904 and became a wandering poet, giving readings and selling printed copies of his work. Robert Atherton penned some of his work with the pseudonym Robin O' Bobs or Rupert Upperton and furthermore called himself 'The Lancashire Burns'

The Kirkby Historic Society collected much of the initial research material in the 1970's producing a booklet 'A Poet Without Honour: the life and work of Robert Atherton 1861-1930' by Keith Cooper but in 1999, Mr Norman Atherton of Maghull deposited the completion of a large amount of additional genealogical research and further documentation. Furthermore, research on the life of Robert Atherton was deposited in June 2014 by Anthony McCarthy in the form of a Research Report (see KA88/P/Z21)

SALLY WHITTAKER'S COLLECTION

GB1076.WHIT/2/1/2	Typed reference for Sylvia Whittaker by W.J.R. Gibbs, Head Master, The Oulton School, Clarence Street, Liverpool. Confirms that Sylvia was a pupil there from April 1925 to December 1930 and praises her work, conduct and appearance. Digitised copy available.	30 Apr 1932
GB1076.WHIT/2/1/3	Bundle of letters to Sally Whittaker from Miss W. Tidd Pratt, the Director of the Liverpool Women Police Patrols. The first, from 1936, invites Sally to come into the office to help out and "see how [she] gets on." The second, from 1939, expresses regret at not seeing Sally to say goodbye before she left and thanks her for her work in the office. The third, from 1943, enquires after Sally and asks her if she might be interested in applying for a patrol vacancy. The final, undated, letter is presumably shortly after the third and suggests that Sally may like to take up a patrol role when she has some free time from her role with the WAAF. Digitised copies available.	c. 1936-c. 1943
GB1076.WHIT/2/1/4	Typed letter to Mrs. Whittaker from R. Smith, B Company, 6th Battalion North Staffs Regt, Huyton. The letter thanks Mrs. Whittaker for entertaining the men of the Company. Digitised copy available.	2 Feb 1940

HUYTON COLLEGE COLLECTION

The school opened as 'Liverpool College for Girls,' Huyton, on 29 January 1894 in premises known as The Mount in The Orchard with just 20 pupils. In early 1897, the school transferred to the larger site of Huyton Hall, a mansion with spacious grounds and gardens but in time this too became insufficient for the school's needs. Further expansions followed including the purchase of Fernwood (the property next door), the renting of a number of large properties in St. Mary's Road to house the growing number of boarders and the later acquisition of St. Helena's House on Roby Road.

Huyton College remained open for 99 years and closed in 1993.

In 2003, Nancy Williams, former secretary to the Head Mistress at Huyton College, deposited the vast majority of the following material.
